Tenneco Inc. has purchased multi-channel servo hydraulic testing equipment from Shore Western Mfg.. We have found Shore Western equipment to be of high quality, it has worked well for the rigorous full system exhaust tests we perform on a daily basis. Shore Western has supported Tenneco well in both presales and post sales. Shore Western has eagerly made themselves available to work through any engineering issues as needed through the course of operation of the equipment. It has been a pleasure working with all the representatives from Shore Western whether they were from the technical side to sales.

We would highly recommend Shore Western servo hydraulic test equipment.
